CURATOR'S WELCOME

Dear ATF Delegates,

Welcome to ATF 2015: MAKING IT.

This ATF program offers the opportunity to reflect upon how theatre makers are 'making it' – aesthetically, ethically, culturally, logistically, practically, economically. What are we making? What drives us to do so? Who are we making it with, and for whom are we making it? What new models are enabling theatre artists to 'make it'? And how might we continue to 'make it' in this current political climate dominated by austerity thinking? This ATF will also ask: how do we 'make it' in the theatre? What are our pathways and our professional journeys? What are our turning points? What are our disasters? What are our strategies for resilience?

Each day we've got a jam-packed series of discussions, showings and demonstrations, as well as the occasional walking tour. Not to mention the swag of shows on every night as part of Sydney Festival. How you navigate this program is entirely up to you – but you'll need to be prepared to share the passions that drive your practice, and be prepared to listen and be inspired by others as they do the same. You'll need goodwill, intellectual rigour, openness, generosity and stamina.

You'll probably also need caffeine, Berocca and comfortable shoes. It'll be big, exhausting and exhilarating, and we look forward to sharing this journey with you all over the next four days.

David Williams
Curator, ATF 2015

DEPUTY PREMIER'S WELCOME

Welcome to Sydney for the fourth Australian Theatre Forum, an important platform to exchange ideas and shape the future of theatre in Australia.

Over the coming days, professional artists, presenters, producers, managers and policy-makers from across the theatre industry will engage in a vibrant discussion focussed on this year's theme, Making It.

As Australia's live performance capital, Sydney is a fitting location to host this forum and the NSW Government is proud to support this event through our tourism and major events agency, Destination NSW, and our arts and culture policy and development body, Arts NSW.

Congratulations to the event organisers for bringing this important industry forum to Sydney. Enjoy the program.

Troy Grant MP
NSW Deputy Premier
Minister for Tourism and Major Events, Minister for the Arts
